

Who are we?
We are Janina and Sven Baumann and together with our 3 year old daughter Ronja we live in Grettstadt near Schweinfurt.

Starting August 2025 we will move to Peru to serve in the mission hospital Diospi Suyana.

What is our motivation?

It may sound a bit crazy to some, but we feel it is our calling to serve there. 2 summers ago we were looking for an opportunity to use our skills for a greater cause and we prayed that God may us show where he wants us to serve him. At the time we were thinking more of something like a professional change in our local area...

Through a book we learned about Diospi Suyana, and then a lot of things happened that made us strongly believe, that this is what He wants us to do.

Diospi Suyana

What is Diospi Suyana?

Diospi Suyana is a hospital in the Andes, founded by German doctors Klaus-Dieter and Martin John. Since its opening in 2007, it offers medical help for the indigenous Quechua people, who have almost no chance for medical treatment otherwise.

In 2014 the school was opened, the Colegio Diospi Suyana. It offers access to good education for the Quechua people, giving prospects for the future even to the poorest. Since 2016 a media center is on air, delivering the message of Jesus Christ to hundreds of thousands by radio and TV.

What will be our tasks?

Janina will work at the school as a remedial teacher and Sven will be part of the technical team, working on several projects for maintenance and expansion of the hospital.

Where is that?

Curahuasi is situated about 3 hours from Cusco in the Andes. The small town lies at 2600 m above sea level and belongs to the Abancay province in the Apurimac region in southern Peru.

How is this going to work?

We are now members of a mission, Vereinigte Deutschen Missionshilfe (VDM). They will be our employer in Germany and will send us to Peru as expats. All of this is voluntary service, meaning we have to take care about our earning our living. We, as all the other missionaries, are funded by donations to enable our work.

How can you support us?

Prayer: There are many challenges ahead, already as we are planning a preparing for our mission. Because we experienced it so often and know what prayers can do, we are grateful for everyone who has us in their prayers.

Donations: As mentioned above, we have to make our living from donations. So we are thankful for all donations to our account at VDM.

Tell others – so they can support us too.
